Art Unit: 3739

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 18, 19, 40 and 42 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being clearly anticipated by Seibel.

See column 14, line 39 to column 20, line 43. Use of the method on a cornea that has been recurved will map an “error correcting change” integrating close path requires the use of at least 3 points.

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 18, 20, 40 and 41 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Wiemker et al. Wiemker et al teach, art column 3, line 23 to column 4, line 55 and column 8, line 7 to column 9, line 11, performing integrals over multiple closed paths using a gradient array generated by transmitting an image of the x ray source through tissue. It would have been obvious to the artisan of ordinary skill to employ the method of Wiemker et al on a head x ray in which case the source image will be transmitted through optical tissue, thus producing a method as claimed.

Art Unit: 3739

Claims 20, 37-39, and 41 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Seibel et al in combination with Odrich et al and Burns. Seibel et al teach a method such as claimed except the transmission through optical tissue, reflection from the retina and a plurality of beamlets. Burns teach a spatially resolved refractometer, which transmits images through the cornea and receives images reflected off the retina. Odrich et al teach mapping the surface contour of the cornea using a spatially resolved refractometer. It would have been obvious to employ the refractometer of Burns in the method of Odrich et al and to produce the contour data by the close integration path method of Seibel et al, since Odrich et al discusses no method to produce the contour data, thus producing a method such as claimed.

Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 18-20 and 38-42 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
